About BioRiver Boost!

BioRiver Boost! is a vivid start-up competition for life sciences and biotechnology initiated and realized by the BioRiver association.

We invite start-up and project applications from North-Rhine Westphalia, Germany and the European countries, in innovative medicine, new therapeutics, diagnostics, medical technologies, enabling technologies, digital solutions, the life sciences industry in general.

To evaluate the most promising project international corporates and institutional investors work together in the BioRiver Boost! jury. They are committed to support the projects and the people behind the projects with their professional advice.
